Municipal Officials of Manitoba for 19

MANITOBA LEGISLATIVE BUILDING

The Manitoba Legislative Building is acknowledged to be one of the finest Capital Buildings on the North American Continent.

Planning of the Building began in 1911. Architectural bids were open throughout the British Empire and 67 designs were received, two were chosen based on the quality of their work: Maxwell Brothers of Montreal, and Frank Worthington-Simon of Liverpool, England. Mr. Frank Worthington-Simon's design was chosen.

The Building is built on a classical design with details from Ancient Greek Architecture. Some of the hand carved sculptures follows: Greek Goddess, Minerva, who was known as the Goddess of Courage; other sculptures are representing art, agriculture, industry and science. The height of this building, to the top of the dome, is 73.76 meters.

Crowning the dome is Manitoba's Golden Boy. The Golden Boy is 4.11 meters tall and weighs approximately 4.5 tonnes. Sculptured by Gardet of Paris, it was cast in a foundry 112 kilometers northeast of Paris at a cost of $3,800. During World War 1 the foundry was demolished and the only thing to come out of the foundry intact was the Golden Boy. Following the war years, he finally arrived in Manitoba in 1919.

Under his left arm he has a sheaf of wheat, representative of the fact that from labour man receives his reward. In his right hand he carries a torch, the eternal call for youth to join in the race and go forward, indicating a progressive province, not content to remain idle. The Golden Boy is standing in the position of a runner, looking to the north, the northern country is not a barren wasteland but a source of our vast mineral wealth.

The major stonework of the building is a local Manitoba stone called Tyndall Limestone. The stone is quarried 48 kilometers northeast of Winnipeg at a place called Garson. The pattern in the stone, mosaic or tapestry, is of petrified vegetation and fossils. According to Geologists, the stone is between 450 - 500 million years in age.

The Manitoba Legislative Building is located on 12.4 hectares of land which gently slope towards the banks of the Assiniboine River. The grounds contain 17 different types of trees, together with 40 varieties of shrubbery. The lawns are dotted with statues symbolic of the multitude of backgrounds which make up Manitoba's society, plus numerous flower beds.

DEPARTMENT OF MUNICIPAL AFFAIRS

LEGISLATIVE LI...
DISCARD

The 1978 List of Municipal Officials reflects the changes resulting from Province-wide municipal elections held in 1977. The booklet will serve during the three year terms established in those elections.

The inclusion of photographs of the Legislative Building and the Legislative Chamber symbolize the democratic system under which we are governed at both Provincial and Municipal levels.

With this publication, I include my best wishes to the municipal officials whose names appear.

G.W.J. (Jerry) Mercier, Q.C.

LEGISLATIVE CHAMBER

Here, 57 members of the Legislative Assembly of Manitoba meet to make the laws that govern our Province. The members' desks are arranged in the shape of a horseshoe around the speaker's chair. The members are elected from all parts of the Province, 27 of the 57 being elected from the Greater Winnipeg area.

There are 60 desks and chairs of walnut, with inlaid ebony in the chamber, arranged in three tiers arising from the sunken floor in the center. Each member's desk is equipped with a microphone connected to the public address system and also to a recording machine which is used for the publication of Hansard, which is the verbatim report of all debates and proceedings of the House. Following an election, the political party which elects the most members forms the government with its leader becoming Premier. He in turn appoints the members of his Cabinet and a Speaker, usually from within his own party. Above the speaker's chair, facing the Assembly, is the press gallery and opposite it is a large semi-circular public gallery looking down into the Chamber.

The government sits to the Speaker's right, while across from the government members in the horseshoe chamber is the official opposition.
